1.	Section 1 (8)	Respectfully, in your earlier response regarding the completion certificates you have suggested that for the assignment from multilateral development banks (MDBs); even the proof of payment of final invoice would be considered. Please note the Government (Federal, State, and municipal) owned utility companies and government agencies such as Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA), United States Bureau of Reclamation (USBR), typically, don't issue a completion/experience certificate, as being a government agency, they cannot endorse consultants/private companies.	In case of Government (Federal, State, and municipal) owned utility companies and government agencies not issuing completion certificate, then only, proof of payment of final invoice would be admissible as proof of satisfactory completion. In this context, relevant part of Contract Agreement showing explicitly the various payment milestones may also be appended. However, other information/documents as per Annexure-IV of REOI to be

		Therefore, regarding projects related to Government (Federal, State, and municipal) owned utility companies and other government agencies, would it be possible to submit the proof of payment of the final invoice instead of completion certificate? Also, along with the proof of final payment we will provide a client reference to confirm our involvement in a given project.	provided. In case Government (Federal, State, and municipal) owned utility companies and government agencies issues certificate, all requisite documents to be attached as per REOI. In case of any other private employer(s), satisfactory completion certificate showing the completion date of assignment with explicit date is mandatory along with other documents mentioned in Annexure-IV of REOI.
2.	Section II, (vii)	The client references that we have collected in the past indicate the years (i.e., duration and relevant calendar years) in which the assignment took place. Kindly confirm that for the projects related to Government (Federal, State, and municipal) owned companies and agencies, proof of final payment can be provided as proof of the assignment's explicit date of completion.	Agreed, clarification at Sl.
